

50

CONTENT IDEAS FOR YOUR

author newsletter

50 content ideas

for your author newsletter

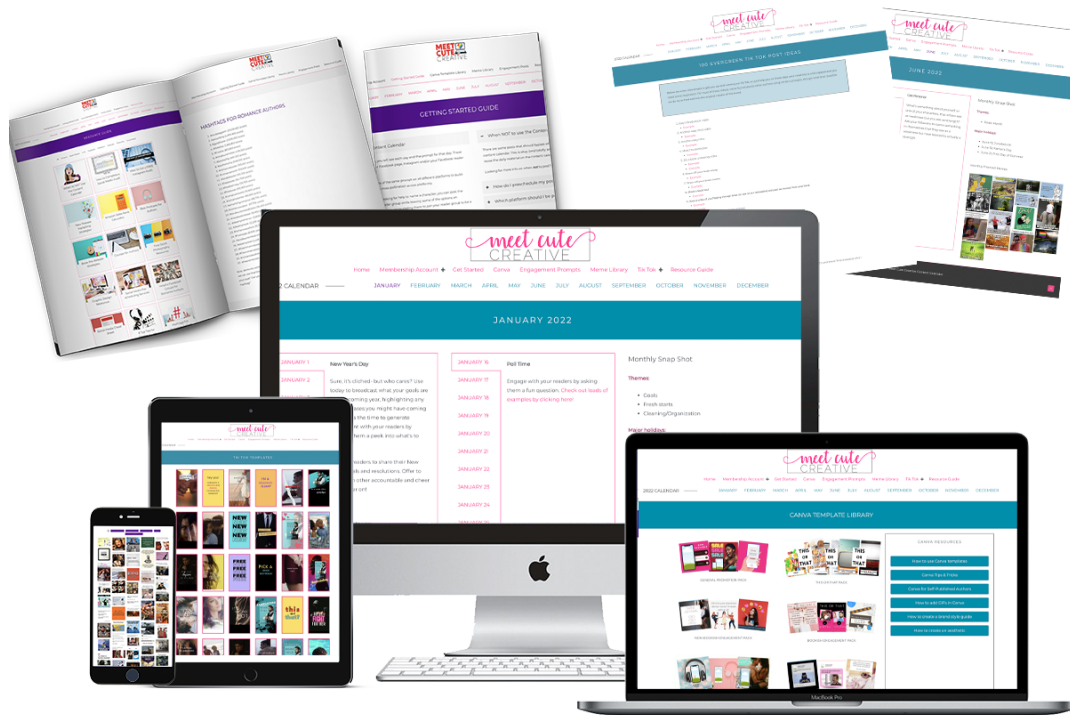

- Share an excerpt of your WIP or latest release
- Discuss your research into this WIP and some interesting facts or things you learned
- Discuss something that inspired your recent book
- Talk about a scene or chapter in your book that really challenged you, or that was fun to write and why
- Highlight a book in your backlist
- Highlight your favorite book you wrote, and why
- Talk about your writing process or habits
- Share a "round up" of all the projects and things you've been up to
- Share a "day in the life" and talk about what your average day looks like
- Share the top 5 lessons you've learned since publishing your first book
- Talk about the highs vs the lows of being an author
- Answer what inspired you to start writing
- Answer where you get your inspiration for books from
- Share your writing goals for the year
- Share your author bucket list
- Post your anticipated publishing schedule (with preorder links if available!)
- Talk about plans for an upcoming holiday
- Share pictures of your pets
- Ask readers for help naming a character or book title
- Interview an author in your genre
- Show off your writing space
- Share what music you listen to when writing
- Share your favorite writing tools/hacks
- If attending an event or panel, talk about it
- Give your take on a controversial opinion (stay away from politics and religion and focus on your genre. For example, "I will NEVER read a secret baby romance. Convince me I'm wrong) and ask your readers for feedback

- Share a deleted scene
- Highlight a meaningful review and shout out the reviewer (and remind people where they can leave reviews!)
- Highlight any fan art or TikTok videos made by readers
- Interview a member of your reader team
- Talk about some fun things you do in your Facebook reader group (and make sure to include a link to join!)
- Share character inspiration photos
- Share your WIP inspiration Pinterest board
- Interview your characters
- Have your character send the newsletter as themselves
- Share how your MC's are different or similar to you
- Talk about your MC's career and why you chose it for them
- If your characters have an interesting hobby, discuss why you gave it to them
- If your book has a scene set in a local setting, share why you chose that place (and take a picture of your book in that setting!)
- Talk about the book you're currently reading
- Discuss a TV show you're loving or a movie you recently saw
- Share a word bubble of your book (make one at <https://www.wordclouds.com/>)
- Share a funny meme or joke (We've got tons available in our 2022 Romance Author Content Calendar!)
- Share books similar to yours that readers might be interested in (but make sure to not overload them)
- Share some upcoming releases you are excited to read
- Share mini book reviews of books you've read
- Add any sales, promotions or giveaways you are participating in
- Shout out your cover designer, editor or other members of your team
- Share recipes from your books
- Add video content - repost popular TikTok or reels from your week
- Share your blog posts you've written, or blogs you've written for other sites

more resources, tips and tools at meetcutecreative.com looking for more help with your content creation?

Romance Author Content Calendar

12 months and 365+ daily post ideas for social media including hashtags, social media holidays and ideas on how to promote your books and brand while also building engagement

300+ fully customizable Canva templates*

100 evergreen TikTok video ideas

85+ fully customizable TikTok Canva templates*

400+ memes for fun social media posts and Facebook group engagement

150+ Engagement Questions

Resource guide with 40+ articles on elevating your career and social media strategy

Grab it now for just \$22 at meetcutecreative.com/calendar!